

*Committed to the idea that philanthropy, when thoughtfully directed,
can make profound changes in the lives of others.*

www.women.support.ucla.edu

Directions: Please purchase a permit for parking structure 6 for $10 from the kiosk attendant at the Westwood Plaza entrance (1/2 mile north of Wilshire Boulevard). Park in any unrestricted space. Exit structure 6 and look for the Women & Philanthropy signage to guide you to the James West Alumni Center.

THE SCIENCE of ATTRACTION

Find out what you're saying to your mate—or potential mate—without saying a word.

Join top UCLA researchers for a revealing look at how men and women communicate attraction. From overt cues to unconscious mannerisms, our interactions show that we are closer to our primate relatives than we might like to believe.

Gregory A. Bryant

Assistant Professor, Department of Communication Studies

An expert on voice and linguistics, Gregory Bryant uncovers the vocal cues women exhibit during ovulation.

Martie G. Haselton

*Associate Professor,
Departments of Communication Studies and Psychology*

A featured speaker on “Good Morning America,” “The View,” “CNN” and other media outlets, Martie Haselton shares her breakthrough work on how women’s behavior changes near ovulation.

Kerri L. Johnson

*Associate Professor,
Departments of Communication Studies and Psychology*

Kerri Johnson exposes how the body’s shape and motion affect judgments of gender and sexual orientation.

Women & Philanthropy invites you to

THE SCIENCE of ATTRACTION

Monday, April 11, 2011

James West Alumni Center, UCLA

- ◉ 4:00 p.m. Presentation
- ◉ 5:00 p.m. Reception

Please respond by Monday, April 4, 2011.

Response card enclosed.

Inquiries: 310.794.2389

E-mail: wmnphil@support.ucla.edu

Map on reverse.